

Full Family Foster Care & Adoption Services

Can you provide a child a place to call home? Approximately 50 children are referred to Intermountain for placement every year. Some of these children need only days of temporary shelter care, some need a safe haven for several months or even a year, and some are in desperate need of a permanent adoptive family. Intermountain recognizes the crucial role caring families have in helping these children develop healthy trusting relationships in order to grow into responsible adults. Please consider the role you can have in the lives of Montana's most vulnerable children.

Intermountain licenses families and provides extensive therapeutic support to help families who are willing to become a resource for a child in need. Our goal is to help families build secure and trusting relationships, and help them prepare for adoption if indicated. If you are interested in beginning the licensing process for foster care and/or adoption, please contact Intermountain at (406)457-4842, or for more information visit www.intermountain.org.

Overview:

- Ages served: 0-17 years old
- Service area: Helena, Great Falls, Butte, and Kalispell
- Hours of Operation: Weekly business hours and 24/7 crisis intervention

Adoption and Family Support Program

Sam was discharged from the residential program and went to live with an amazing new family. They had gone through the Adoption and Family Support training and were prepared to bring Sam in. However both parents were working, and Sam, whose emotional needs prevented him from attending a public day care, needed a place to go after school and during the summer. Thanks to generous donations, the afterschool and summer program is in place, and it provides an opportunity for many children to experience things they have never been able to do. Sam had always wanted to go the Museum of the Rockies, and because of a donor, he and the entire program were able to go for the day and enjoy the museum.

Full Family Foster Care & Adoption Services

Can you provide a child a place to call home? Approximately 50 children are referred to Intermountain for placement every year. Some of these children need only days of temporary shelter care, some need a safe haven for several months or even a year, and some are in desperate need of a permanent adoptive family. Intermountain recognizes the crucial role caring families have in helping these children develop healthy trusting relationships in order to grow into responsible adults. Please consider the role you can have in the lives of Montana's most vulnerable children.

Intermountain licenses families and provides extensive therapeutic support to help families who are willing to become a resource for a child in need. Our goal is to help families build secure and trusting relationships, and help them prepare for adoption if indicated. If you are interested in beginning the licensing process for foster care and/or adoption, please contact Intermountain at (406)457-4842, or for more information visit www.intermountain.org.

Overview:

- Ages served: 0-17 years old
- Service area: Helena, Great Falls, Butte, and Kalispell
- Hours of Operation: Weekly business hours and 24/7 crisis intervention

Adoption and Family Support Program

Sam was discharged from the residential program and went to live with an amazing new family. They had gone through the Adoption and Family Support training and were prepared to bring Sam in. However both parents were working, and Sam, whose emotional needs prevented him from attending a public day care, needed a place to go after school and during the summer. Thanks to generous donations, the afterschool and summer program is in place, and it provides an opportunity for many children to experience things they have never been able to do. Sam had always wanted to go the Museum of the Rockies, and because of a donor, he and the entire program were able to go for the day and enjoy the museum.

