

Reflections from Addie

Here are some of Addie's thoughts when hearing that there was a chaplain's program when she arrived at Intermountain: "I was glad to know that there was a chaplain, even if I didn't know exactly what that was. I grew up going to church, and even though at first I didn't want to go to fellowship or chapel services, I was always glad once I got there."

In regards to the best things about the chaplain's program, Addie remarked: "It's fun and kids want to come. The games are a lot of fun, too. And, just a while back something 'clicked' for me and I saw the connection between the games we played, what we were talking about with the Bible stories, and the stuff I was working on in the cottage."

Did any particular lesson stand out to you:

"Yeah. One we did pretty early on about masks... I think it was around Halloween. It was a really creative way to talk about feelings, and how we can have masks up even when we know that God takes care of us. I remember that one a lot."

At Addie's goodbye ceremony, her family reflected on just how thankful they were for the investment Intermountain made in Addie. Her dad shared that he felt like his "family was a lot bigger now, because all of you are like family to us now." Mom tearfully added, "Before we got Addie here, there was like a big wall between us. It was huge. I couldn't find any way to tear it down or get around it. Now, that wall has come down. It has come down and we are a whole family. At one time, I didn't have any hope of that. You gave us hope. Thank you for giving us that gift." Addie's sister remarked of just how proud she was of the hard work Addie had done to be ready to come home.

Addie is home now. She is doing well reintegrating into her family.

One final comment from Addie was, "You should support Intermountain... Think about what God would do - God wants you to help those in need. Kids NEED to know God loves them. Support the Chaplain's program so kids can learn about God."

Reflections from Addie

Here are some of Addie's thoughts when hearing that there was a chaplain's program when she arrived at Intermountain: "I was glad to know that there was a chaplain, even if I didn't know exactly what that was. I grew up going to church, and even though at first I didn't want to go to fellowship or chapel services, I was always glad once I got there."

In regards to the best things about the chaplain's program, Addie remarked: "It's fun and kids want to come. The games are a lot of fun, too. And, just a while back something 'clicked' for me and I saw the connection between the games we played, what we were talking about with the Bible stories, and the stuff I was working on in the cottage."

Did any particular lesson stand out to you:

"Yeah. One we did pretty early on about masks... I think it was around Halloween. It was a really creative way to talk about feelings, and how we can have masks up even when we know that God takes care of us. I remember that one a lot."

At Addie's goodbye ceremony, her family reflected on just how thankful they were for the investment Intermountain made in Addie. Her dad shared that he felt like his "family was a lot bigger now, because all of you are like family to us now." Mom tearfully added, "Before we got Addie here, there was like a big wall between us. It was huge. I couldn't find any way to tear it down or get around it. Now, that wall has come down. It has come down and we are a whole family. At one time, I didn't have any hope of that. You gave us hope. Thank you for giving us that gift." Addie's sister remarked of just how proud she was of the hard work Addie had done to be ready to come home.

Addie is home now. She is doing well reintegrating into her family.

One final comment from Addie was, "You should support Intermountain... Think about what God would do - God wants you to help those in need. Kids NEED to know God loves them. Support the Chaplain's program so kids can learn about God."